FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S OFFICE —

On March 27th, several York High School students will have the opportunity to attend the York County Career Fair at the Holthus Convention Center. This career fair program is developed by the York County Development office and several educators from the York area. This is a great opportunity for students to hear from professionals from several different companies.

Each year the career fair focuses on six different career clusters – Agriculture, Food and Natural Resources – Communications and Information Systems – Skilled and Technical Sciences – Health Services – Human Services and Education – Business, Marketing and Management. We are also fortunate to have several York professionals that are volunteering their time to discuss career opportunities in these important areas. Some of these are: Jack Leiting – Service Manager Truck Center Companies, Angie Kroger – Math teacher at YHS., Miles Berg - York Dental Associates, Marcus Ruhl - Cornerstone Bank, and Kirby Crawford - Kirtsey's Clothing/Kirby's School of Dance.

I'm also excited for our students to listen to the keynote speaker Mike Smith. Mike is a professional speaker and social entrepreneur. Smith is founder of The BAY and Skate for Change, promoting positive communities and opportunities for youth development. Through his ventures, Smith has combined his passion for skateboarding, music, and art; he continues to use those as a means to help the next generation of students find their passion. Whether it's motivating students or employees to change the culture of their school or workplace or showing others how easy it is to give back to the less fortunate, Mike has the experience and expertise to inspire others to be extraordinary.

ENERGY DRINKS – NOT A GOOD IDEA ACCORDING TO NEW RESEARCH

According to a recent study done by Yale University, energy drinks like Monster, Full Throttle, Five Hour Energy, Redbull, Amp and Rockstar to name a few have been linked to hyper-activity and inattention in middle school students. The results from this study support the American Academy of Pediatrics recommendation that parents should limit consumption of sweetened beverages and children / teens should not consume any energy drinks. Children who consumed energy drinks were 66 percent more likely to be at risk for hyperactivity and inattention symptoms, according to the study in the current issue of the journal Academic Pediatrics. Along with causing problems such as hyperactivity and inattention, sugary drinks increase children's risk of obesity. About one-third of American children are overweight or obese, according to the latest estimates from the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Energy drinks are not recommended to replace breakfast or any meal and do not make a good snack students. If you child is tired or having problems staying awake his/her body is trying to tell you something. Maybe your child is getting sick? Did your child get enough sleep last night? Is your child eating healthy? Instead of grabbing an energy drink try eating a healthy snack and get 8-10 hours of uninterrupted sleep.

MARIJUANA – THE STONE COLD FACTS

Legal or illegal, marijuana, like alcohol, is one of the most common drugs of abuse among teens that has led to serious problems and consequences. Remember the 80's commercial, "this is your brain on drugs", with the egg in the frying pan? Well, that analogy might be more accurate than anyone truly knew at the time. Today, with the all the mixed messages kids receive about marijuana, regardless of a state's legal stance, knowing the facts about marijuana is imperative in addressing the topic. Here are some facts you should know: Marijuana is Addictive - The main active ingredient in marijuana creates a feeling of pleasure. This effect is partly responsible for the "high" a person feels when he or she smokes marijuana. It is one of the main reasons people use marijuana again and again, which can lead to addiction. Today's marijuana – Marijuana being produced today has a much higher amount of THC the active ingredient in the drug, as compared to the versions available in the 1960's and 1970s. In fact, the National Institute on Drug Abuse (NIDA) reports that, on average, today's marijuana contains almost 10 percent THC. Teen Brain Development - Unlike adults, the teen brain is developing and often will not stop until the mid-20s. Marijuana and other drug used during this period can have a huge and damaging impact, affecting a teen's ability to develop and grow emotionally, academically and socially. Learning & Memory - The THC in marijuana affects the way that sensory information is processed by the part of the brain that controls learning and memory as well with children's emotion and motivation. All of this can lead to problems in studying and learning new things, as well as recalling recent events. Coordination - Marijuana can, and many times will, impair a person's balance, timing and agility/movement. This may lead to things such as diminished performance in athletics or cause impaired driving. Judgment - Since marijuana affects the area of the brain involved in decision making, using marijuana may only add to risky behaviors and/or poor decision making teens often partake in because of their brain development.

As mentioned before, legal or illegal, marijuana, like alcohol, is one of the most widely abused drugs by teens. So the next time you are having breakfast with your kids, crack open some eggs and talk to them about marijuana.

For more information on marijuana use and the brain please visit the NIDA website www.drugabuse.gov.
